

HAPPY FATHER'S DAY

FROM THE PROPHET'S DESK

After 40 there is a shift-Nehemiah out of his compassion for the people began to build in troublesome times. You have been called to minister as 2nd Timothy points out in “perilous” times. There is a coat of favor liken unto Joseph distinct garment given to him by his Father to show his affection and favor above his brethren.

Despite the ripping and tearing of the coat in the natural it did not take the favor of the Father from him where ever he found himself.

The favor on his life wasn't for immediate prosperity though that would come later; it was manifested in whatever work Joseph put his hands to. No matter whom the overseer was the favor of God caused the work and the demeanor of Joseph to excel above those around him. That favor was gladly extended to Joseph from his Father which represented the Favor of the Heavenly Father. God then set circumstances in the life of Joseph to position him so God could maximize the gift placed in him. Key? Whatever you find your hands to do Joseph do it as unto the Lord and it will lead to the next station in the quest for achieving destiny. Every place Joseph went he found favor and his work excelled and was a testimony to the gift that was in his life. Note he had to work. His earthly father was a deterrent to the stirring of the gift that was in his life by the Heavenly Father. His earthly father was spoiling him and not requiring him to work and take responsibility like his other brethren.

God wasn't going to waste the gift by allowing Joseph to become complacent and lazy. He used the haters to thrust him into purpose and the call on his life. When the gift is there no matter what the task or the position you employ the favor of God causes you to excel. When you ask for the will of God understand he wants that more for your life than you do. Also understand he immediately sets in motion the fulfillment to the request! You just have to work diligently at the station in life you find yourself and know the open door is coming to the next level. Whether it be slave, prisoner or cupbearer the compassion in you have for souls and the favor in your life will work together for good and bring about the will of God and the success that was determined for you before Adam saw Eve. Build now! Whatever is commissioned to your hands, work at it as never before! It will multiply and bring forth fruit that will glorify God. What have you offered back to God for the life and gifts he has given you? Can you imagine asking a baby that? Can you see yourself asking a two year old that you are raising and caring for “what have you offered back to me for taking care of you all these years?” Well, first, that child isn't thinking about giving you anything! Children by nature are too innately selfish. Your expectations would change if the child was 21, or 35 or 40 ect. When God looks at you what does he see? I can answer that question! Whatever your response was to the question and the service you have rendered depicts the stage of your maturity.

WORDS OF ENCOURAGEMENT/TESTIMONY

BLUEPRINT

Growing up without my biological father being apart of my childhood never really bothered me. I pretty much kept to myself and stayed close to my mother who, as best as she could, tried to take care of my younger brother and myself. My mother asked me one day if I wanted to take my father to court for child support, I told my mother then that we have been doing alright for ourselves and that she was doing a pretty decent job of raising the two of us. At that time of my life my mother was everything and all that we needed. The questions in my childhood, mom tried her best to answer. I looked at my father as simply not being mature enough or not being able to handle responsibility. Some twenty to thirty years later, I would find that way of thinking changing. Now having my own children and a marriage, I find myself looking for answers to questions that I almost forgot I had to deal with as a child.

I pretty much thought that I would find some kind of handbook on Fatherhood and on being a Husband. I became aware that there was little to none on any guidance on being a man except for the occasional sermon or television program. Where was my map or blueprint that I was to follow or look back on for answers? Well one night while doing some reading I heard a voice speaking right out of the blue saying "I will be a Father unto you". Those words shot right through me and I couldn't shake them. God has been saying for a long time that He would be our source of strength, wisdom and life. In Jeremiah the 31st chapter and Hosea the 14th chapter, God has always been a Father to Israel and a King. God has always been a constant supply for food, deliverance and a roadmap or guidance in life. It has always been up to Israel or us to look to Him for what we needed and trust in His ways to be obedient to His words. Fathers it is time to turn to God for our source of strength, wisdom and truth. It has always been up to us to take God's blueprint for our lives that we in turn would hand that blueprint to our sons.

Fathers are the biggest source of strength for a child. The innocent eyes of a child perceive father as the all-powerful, most knowledgeable, truly affectionate and the most important person in the family. For daughters, fathers are the first men they adore and fall in love with. While for sons their fathers are the strongest person they know and someone they aspire to emulate. Even for the grownups fathers are someone whom they look up to for the most experienced and honest advice that is always in the best of our interest. For this great figure in our life that we know as father - it becomes our utmost duty to pay our humblest tribute on the occasion of Father's Day.

Children under the care and guidance of stepfather must take opportunity of Father's Day to express gratitude and thanks to him. Children must analyze the value of stepfather in their life and be thankful for the protection and guidance they receive from him as love of a stepfather must never be taken for granted. On the occasion of Father's Day children must realize that their stepfather has taken the extreme step of taking care of them out of choice and out of love for them. It must also be understood that it is not easy for a man to become a stepfather and that stepfathers face their own set of challenges and extra responsibilities.
